Do you “decorate” your home with stacks of books? Do you need a half-dozen books “in reserve”, on call for your next whim? Do you sometimes have trouble deciding between a page-turning mystery or a soothing volume of poetry? Have you visited the Book Nook?

If you’ve answered “yes” to the first three questions, but a “no” to the last one, do yourself a favor: on your next visit to the library, come down to the lower level, where a treasure trove of books awaits your investigation! The Book Nook is stocked with gently used books, music CDs, audiobooks, large print books and DVDs, all for sale at very reasonable prices—and you’ll never be without a book to throw in your bag to take on vacation or to the beach.

The Book Nook is staffed with volunteers from the Friends of the Library. You can find us there on most Mondays, which is also the day we encourage you to drop off any book donations you might have. All books are half-price on Mondays from 10am to noon. Items can be paid for upstairs at the library’s front desk. Proceeds from your purchases are a major source of revenue for the Friends’ funding of children’s programs at the library. We thank you for our support!
