FROM THE DIRECTOR

One of the online resources we offer here is Lynda.com. This is a variety of courses, on an extensive number of subjects, available free of charge with your Floyd Memorial Library card.

I recently enrolled in a course to learn about cryptocurrency—since I had heard lots about it, but couldn't understand how it works. I'm still working my way through in four- and five-minute sections. After I learn about cryptocurrency and blockchain, I think I'll take a WordPress course, so I can better manage our web page. There must be some subject you'd like to learn more about.

Just go to our website:
www.floydmemoriallibrary.org and on the front page is a direct link to Lynda.
